

REDMOND-CAHILL.

St. Patrick's Church the Scene of a Happy Nuptial Ceremony This Morning.

This morning St. Patrick's Church was the scene of one of the happy events of life, when everything seems bright and joyous and the world appears to smile on all.

At the hour of 8 o'clock the marriage of Mr. M. P. Redmond and Miss Katie S. Cahill was solemnized, Rev. Frank Kehoe officiating. A large number of the friends and relatives of the couple were present to witness the nuptial ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murtie Cahill, of the Fifth ward. She is a most estimable young lady, endowed with the noble traits of head and heart that go to make the true christian woman. She was attired in a beautiful costume of white silk, with veil and diamond ornaments.

The groom wore the conventional black. He is a member of the firm of Cummins & Redmond, and is one of the city's promising young business men, being well and favorably known by the entire community.

The ushers were Messrs. W. T. Cummins and M. A. Swift. After the wedding ceremony the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served. They left shortly afterwards for Cincinnati and Louisville. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

On returning home they will take up their residence on West Third street, where a handsomely furnished home awaits them. The BULLSTIN joins with their host of friends in wishing them a happy journey through life.

Must Have Been Circus Day.

Danville Advocate: "Some of the women in town are enjoying a good joke on a certain housekeeper. Some time ago she went to the country to spend a few days, and upon her departure for home insisted that her host and hostess come and spend a day with her and bring their children and grandchildren. They came. About nine o'clock one morning a vehicle rolled up and six got out of it. Our friend was overjoyed at seeing them and inquired where the rest were. She was assured that they were coming and would be along directly. An hour later another vehicle arrived and six more alighted. Our friend was now simply overjoyed. Directly, however, six more arrived—making eighteen. Matters then began to assume a serious aspect. But the end was not yet. Eleven o'clock brought six more. Well, there is nothing like being surrounded by your friends. It is said, though, that the lady now has a nervous chill every time a buggy or carriage is heard."

Says the Cincinnati Tribune: "Judge Moore's jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $10,000 in the case of Joseph L. Roberts against the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, an action to recover on two policies on the life of Jacob O. Phister. The insurance company did not resist payment, but the controversy was between the plaintiff and Elizabeth H. Phister, the widow of the insured. Mrs. Phister was the beneficiary named in the policies and she and her children had assigned the policies to plaintiff, who was a creditor of the insured. It was claimed on behalf of Mrs. Phister that the assignment was made under duress, and also that it was void under the rules of the company."

THE Supreme Court of Indiana held, in the recent case of Brown vs. Ohio & Mississippi Railway Company, that it was actionable negligence for a railroad company to nail a plank two inches thicker than the rest on a platform where trainmen might be moving rapidly to perform their duties in connection with moving trains, and that where a brakeman in such case was required to alight from the front end of a moving train upon such a platform to receive orders, and did so carefully and safely, but after taking two or three steps stumbled over the plank without previous knowledge of it, and was thrown under the cars thereby and injured, the company was liable, even though alighting from the moving train concurred with the obstruction in producing the injury.
